Dear Pearl:

We are now starting to gather the material for the very first issue of the SE NEWSLETTER, and I would hope to go to the printer by mid-November and have the issue in the mails by December 1st.

To this end, will you please prepare a suitable "President's letter" for this first issue.

I would also like to solicit information from our other members; and, to this end, I have drafted a letter which I would hope might be sent forward to our membership by Nancy Kitchen as soon as possible.

Once our membership becomes accustomed to the SE NEWSLETTER and to the type of information that will be included in its issues, I believe we will not have difficulty in filling our pages.

Tentative plans for our first issue include the following items:

A report to the SE law librarians about the Marco Beach meeting and the "pilot project" being undertaken by IDC.

A summary of the ORALL chapter meeting scheduled for October 25-27 in Lexington, Kentucky.

The first announcement about the Law Library Administration Institute in Atlanta next spring.

A summary report from the Second National Conference on Automated Law Research, scheduled for Monterey, California, October 18-20.

A report on developments at the Federal Trade Commission with respect to law book publishing practices.

A bibliography on the Twenty-Fifth Amendment (timely because of the recent Vice-Presidential resignation). This may be changed to a more timely topic at the last minute.

Plus, regular features on "membership news," on vacant positions as well as candidates available, and a profile of a SE law library.

I hope it will be possible for Nancy to send the letter to our members, so we can make our first issue a good one.

Sincerely,

Peyton R. Neal, Jr.
